A Comprehensive Picture Story of the Washington Theater Disaster

This photograph was made just after daylight following the collapse of the Knickerbocker Theater, Washington, D. C., in which scores lost their lives and several hundred were injured. Soldiers are shown clearing away the wreckage, with the stage in the background. Soldiers on the right are carrying out the dead on stretchers. In the immediate foreground is a portion of the snow-laden roof which crashed without warning upon the audience. This roof gave way under the heaviest snowstorm the capital has experienced in years.

NAVAL TREATY NOW READY--SHANTUNG QUESTION SETTLED

Arms Conference Marks Up Two More Great Successes When Article 19 of Naval Treaty Is Agreed Upon and China and Japan Adjust Shantung

TERMS WILL BE ANNOUNCED SOON

Washington, D. C., January 31.—The Arms Conference today marked up two more successes to its record as it neared the end of its work. The two latest successes were:

1.—The completion of the Five Power treaty for the reduction and limitation of the great navies of the world by a final agreement to Article 19, providing for the non-fortification of the Pacific Islands of the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

2.—Settlement in direct negotiations between China and Japan of the Shantung question, one of the most troublesome questions which has come before the Conference.

The Naval Limitations Treaty will be announced to the world at a Plenary Session tomorrow.

IN HIS NAME
The Progress received the following letter, which was accompanied by a dollar bill, this morning:

"Dear Progress:—Enclosed find one dollar which is to be used for some of the needy people in this community.
A CRIPPLE
There is a whole sermon in that little epistle, and demonstrates the fact that Clearfield would be a much better place to live in if all her people were possessed of the same measure of true Christian charity as shines in the heart of the little cripple girl, who thus seeks to do her part toward the poor and needy we have always with us.
The dollar was applied to the local charity fund.

ED. BUTLER, STAR OF BUCKNELL TEAM, HOME ON A VISIT

Ed. Butler, Bucknell football star is visiting his parents in Clearfield this week. Ed has been going some in college circles and the prediction of his admirers at the time he was on the football team here that he would reach the pinnacle of sport stardom seems to be coming true. Of him, Parke Davis, famous Princeton authority, says: Butler made the longest run from a fumble in the history of football. He made ninety two yards. This was in the Bucknell-Lafayette game.

The Bucknell team will be heard from next year. Every man on this season's team will be back in the lineup next year. They are building up a wonderful machine, have the material, the spirit and the start. Watch them go.

Forty Million Dollar Heiress Marries Poor Russian Laborer

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 31.—Mrs. Marion T. Stephens, forty-million-dollar heiress of the late Norman Ream, will be married on Saturday to Alexander Vansiatky, a Philadelphia laborer, according to word received from Chicago friends of Mrs. Stephens today. The couple will live in a cottage in the poor district of Philadelphia near the Baldwin Locomotive Works, where Vansiatky is employed.

Senator Kenyon Appointed A Federal Circuit Judge

Washington, D. C., January 31.—Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, leader of the Agricultural "Bloc" in the Senate, has been appointed Judge of the Eighth Federal Circuit, it was announced at the White House today.

VIOLENT EARTHQUAKE IS RECORDED BUT SCIENTISTS CANNOT LOCATE IT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—A tremendous earthquake disturbance is on somewhere between 2400 and 2500 miles south of Washington, Father Francis Tondorf, of Georgetown University, declared today on the basis of seismograph records in his observatory. The quake first registered at 8:25 A. M. and continued with increasing intensity until 8:36 when the needle was thrown off the scale. The tremors were still being registered at 11:09 A. M.

Cleveland, Ohio Jan. 31.—A violent earthquake shock, one of the worst of recent years, was recorded on the seismograph here today. According to Father Odenbach, Director of the observatory. The quake is probably 7,000 miles from here, in the direction of Mexico and South America.

San Francisco, Cal. Jan. 31.—Many early risers in San Francisco reported that they felt earth tremors, believed to be an earthquake, at 5:15 a. m. The tremors were sufficient to rattle windows they said. The United States weather bureau however had received no reports of any earthquake nor had they noticed any disturbance of their instruments.

Not in Mexico
San Louis, Sonora, Mexico, Jan. 31.—Radio inquiries sent throughout northwestern Mexico today revealed the fact that today's earthquake, reported at various seismograph stations throughout the United States was not felt in this area.

SHOOTS THREE WHEN REFUSED ENTRANCE TO RESTAURANT

New York, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Refused admission to an all-night restaurant, Charles Gilmartin, a plumber, drew a revolver and poured a fusillade of shots into the crowded room. A waiter and two patrons fell with bullet wounds and Gilmartin and a partner, were arrested.

GIRL PLACED ON RAILROAD TRACK AFTER ASSAULT

McClens, Mich., Jan. 31.—Helen St. Hovan, pretty young Detroit girl, was in a critical condition in a hospital here today after being dragged, attacked and placed on an interurban railroad track in front of a speeding car. The motorman, with the brakes on his car grinding brought the car to a stop within a few inches of the girl's body.

DAVIS REVOKES HUNDREDS OF DRUGGIST'S LIQUOR LICENSES

Philadelphia, Pa., January 31.—More than 150 wholesale and retail drug stores here have had their liquor licenses revoked, on the grounds of bad faith, prohibition authorities announced today. A similar action has been taken against drug stores in Wilkes-Barre and Pittsburgh at an almost equal rate.

RABBIT HUNTERS WHO SHOT WOMAN SUED FOR $10,000

Mrs. John Miller And Husband Ask Huge Sum From Men They Allege Were Careless.

VICTIM IS ILL YET

Rabbit hunting in Woodward Township appears to be more or less of a hazardous undertaking judging from notice of suits for damages which was filed in Prothonotary Reist's office this morning by the law firm of Chase & Chase.

The suit was entered on behalf of John Miller and Mary Miller, his wife and the total damages asked for is $10,000. The suit is brought against Orville Waite, John Gemmill, and James Mapstone. All the parties named are residents of Woodward Township.

The statement filed with the notice of suit recites that on Saturday, November 5, 1921, Orville Waite, John Gemmill and James Mapstone, were hunting in Woodward Township, Clearfield County, all using shotguns. When near the house of John Miller, the three men shot at a rabbit. One of the guns shot a ball and this ball passed through the kitchen door of the Miller home and entered the shoulder of Mrs. Miller who was ill and reclining on a couch or sofa in the house. The ball inflicted a serious wound, necessitating the woman's removal to the Cottage State Hospital where she yet remains under treatment, occasioning her much pain, suffering and inconvenience.

The statement alleges that by reason of the fact that the men were close to the Miller house and other homes when they fired at the rabbit, the shooting was done in a careless and reckless manner and that by reason of such carelessness they are liable for the damages sustained by Mr. and Mrs. Miller.

Mr. Miller asks $3,000 for the expense and worry he has been put to while Mrs. Miller wants $7,000 to reimburse her for what she has gone through.

THOROUGH INQUIRY IN KNICKERBOCKER DISASTER PROPOSED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—All the powers of the Federal Government will be exercised to probe the Knickerbocker Theatre disaster, it was learned today. If the investigations show laxity in building inspection those responsible will be charged with criminal negligence and prosecuted. Congress, the Executive Department and the District Attorney have gone into every phase of the disaster.

A careful checkup has decreased the death list to 95, as several errors and duplications have been discovered. Other deaths however among those in the hospitals are expected. Six of the best Army and Navy Construction Engineers will investigate the construction of the theatre. Reports are current that the concrete was in a crumbly condition and that sufficient re-enforcements were lacking.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—Jewelry and money valued at $60,000 were found on the bodies of the Knickerbocker Theatre crash victims and have turned over to relatives. A mass of coats, hats and shoes lie at police headquarters after removal from the Christian Science Church improvised morgue.

C. T. Rowles of Pike Township and Miles Wrigley of Mahaffey were transacting business in town yesterday.

MLADINS WILL BE SENT BACK TO NATIVE HEATH

Boardman Brewers And Knife Wielders Found
To Be Aliens And Mr.
Arnold Arranges Trip.

GOOD RIDDANCE

A Deputy United States Marshall arrived in Clearfield this morning for the purpose of taking charge of Mr. and Mrs. Metro Mladin, the Boardman couple who were convicted of assault and battery with intent to kill at September Criminal Court and who have since been confined to the Clearfield County Jail.

Mladin had been making and selling "white mule" at his house in Boardman and falling out with one of his customers, the two men repaired to the street to do battle. While they were engaged in combat, Mrs. Mladin ran out of the house and plunged a knife into the back of her husband's adversary, inflicting a serious wound.

At the trial it developed that the Mladins came to Clearfield County from Detroit and the man did not bear the very best of reputations while in the automobile city. It was further found that the couple were aliens and the Clearfield County authorities decided it would be better to deport them back to their native land, than have Clearfield County act as their hosts at the penitentiary for a year or two.

Accordingly District Attorney Arnold took the matter up with the Federal authorities and an order for the deportation of the Mladins was issued for New York with the couple and they will be on their way back to their homeland before the week is out.

CABINET DISCUSSES FORD'S OFFER ON MUSCLE SHOALS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—President Harding and his Cabinet today discussed Henry Ford's offer for the Muscle Shoals Nitrate Plant. Secretary of War Weeks said that he wished to discuss the matter with the President and other members of the Cabinet before proceeding further with the negotiations.

VASSAR GIRLS IN TERROR OVER FOUR ATTACKS BY MAN WHO ELUDES CAPTURE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 31.—A huge, roughly dressed prowler, who has attacked four Vassar girls within the past two days, terrorized the college campus today. Following an attack by the marauder, of whom an accurate description has been obtained, upon Miss Anna T. Kitchell, and she gave the man a battle which a six foot tall instructor at Vassar, ended in his wrestling himself free the police have organized posses to hunt down the man.

700,000 Divorces In U. S. In 34 Years--Leads All Countries

Philadelphia, Pa., January 31.—Approximately 700,000 divorces were granted in the United States during the thirty-four year period from 1887 to 1921, compared with 67 in Canada, according to a statement issued today by Rev. John P. Wickham.

"It is deplorable," he said, "that Americans, anxious to serve God, can be so blinded to their duty as to permit this condition to exist." Our national divorce rate is relatively double that of Switzerland, three times that of France, five times that of Germany and as large as the combined rate of Norway, Sweden, Holland, Germany, Belgium, Hungary, Great Britain and Australia.

TONY PULCI HELD FOR MURDER OF CHARLES NELO

Coroner's Jury Finds Sufficient Evidence To Recommend Holding Of Owner Of House.

WITNESSES HEARD

DuBois, Pa., Jan. 31.—As the result of the coroner's inquest held yesterday afternoon over the remains of Charles Nelo, who was shot to death in the home of Tony Pulci, a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Pulci, charged with murder and with illegal sale of liquor. He was given a hearing last evening and held without bail.

The coroner's jury brought in the following findings:

"Charles Nelo came to his death on the 29th day of January, 1922, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock p. m. as the result of a gunshot wound and we, the jurors, believe according to the evidence produced before us that the said Tony Pulci should be held to answer therefor."

J. I. POLLUM, M. D.
Coroner

Caramelas Interested
It developed at the hearing that some of the Caramelas showed great interest in the probable fate of Pulci. One of them immediately telephoned to Charles Margiotti to engage him as counsel, and two of them went to the lockup yesterday morning at 4 o'clock and yelled for the defendant to keep quiet and say nothing regarding the case.

The coroner's inquest held yesterday afternoon at the City building attracted a large number of people, both Italians and Americans.

District Attorney There
District Attorney J. C. Arnold was present representing the Commonwealth and assisted in the questioning. James A. Gleason was present, representing Charles Margiotti counsel for Tony Pulci, arrested on suspicion of firing the fatal shot.

First Witness Tells Story
The first witness called by Coroner Pollum was Patsy Caramela (Angelo's Patsy). He told a straight forward story of the entire trouble up to the time of the shooting. He said that there were about fifteen people in the Pulci house, some of them playing cards and most of them drinking wine. He stated that the trouble ending in the shooting started about 8:45 o'clock. There was some money on the table and P. A. Caramela called for some wine from Pulci. He alleges that Patsy Caramela picked up fifty cents from the table and that Sam Caramela on an impulse ordered him to put it back. He (Sam) then took hold of Patsy's finger with his teeth. Joe Caramela then went after Sam and general trouble followed. Patsy states that at this juncture he went out to put in a call for the police but did not succeed in getting to a telephone. He returned to the house and declared that "hell was still being raised." Pulci at this

Valley of Death
The crater of an extinct volcano in the island of Java is called the "Valley of Death." It is filled with horrible and gas which continually arises from fissures in the bottom and being indigestible and entirely irrespirable, every living thing that descends below the margin of the valley is instantly suffocated. The ground is fairly covered with the bones of numerous animals and even of men that have entered the death region.

LOANS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Commander MacNider is Originator of Plan to Aid Men in Need of Assistance.

Buddies who are "broken in health and battling their way through life" for their just disability compensation will be the beneficiaries of a big rotating fund, details of which are being worked out at national headquarters of the American Legion.

The fund is designed to provide loans without security and at a low rate of interest, to ex-service men in every state who are in need of assistance. Commander MacNider, who originated the plan, says that such a provision is of vital necessity in order that worthy men may keep their self-respect during a period of financial stress. Ex-soldiers who do not meet the ready cash provided by the government's payment of adjusted compensation have signified their willingness to turn over their bonus to the fund.

Hundreds of instances of sick and wounded ex-service men falling back on charity while their claims were being reviewed are shown by Legion reports. Tubercular victims whose condition has been brought on by poison gas or exposure have gone to sanitariums in the West and have been denied immediate treatment and become public charges. It is declared. Some help for these men during the period of readjustment is of prime importance, according to MacNider.

HELPED ENTERTAIN THE BOYS
Mrs. Jessie Erskine Danced in France. —Now Treasurer of County Legion Committee.

Mrs. Jessie A. Erskine says she used to dance 9,000 steps a week at Tours, France, for the education and amusement of boys, doughboys and leathernecks, some of whom, she admits, were attractive. Now she dances almost as many steps in holding down her job as treasurer of the Niagara county committee of the American Legion, in New York state.

Mrs. Erskine was chief stenographer in the quartermaster department, and was also chief sister in the department of sports and pastimes, which was less official but just as interesting. She succeeded in being A. W. O. I. twice without being given her sailing papers.

Mrs. Orvis Woolridge of DuBois spent the week end in town with her parents.

EX-SERVICE MEN'S HOSPITAL

Dr. Albert Wehenkel Heads Detroit Institution—All Employees Have Been in Service.

The only hospital in the country operated by ex-service men for the benefit of ex-service men has been opened at Camp Custer, Mich. It is the new Roosevelt American Legion hospital converted from a former community house at Camp Custer and turned over to the Legion by the state. The superintendent is Dr. Albert M. Wehenkel, of Detroit, Mich.

Dedicated by Marshal Taft, the hospital opened its doors to former service men of Michigan suffering from tuberculosis. Each doctor, nurse and employee at the institution has been in some branch of the government service. Each patient is given a separate room, tastefully decorated and supplied with running water. They are kept at the hospital until their case has been pronounced "arrested," and then are placed immediately in vocational training to prevent a period of idleness.

Doctor Wehenkel has been tuberculosis expert for the Detroit board of health for seven years. He saw two years of army medical service during the war.

Poor Man's Pride.

So many men of which the last side mentioned had given money, had expressed a preference for a certain lodging house that he wondered what constituted its particular attraction.

"It makes us feel self-respecting," said the men, when questioned. So far as the mansion worker could see, it was the typical cheap lodging house, whose inducements to self-respect were not discernible to the ordinary eye. So he interviewed the manager.

"That's easy," replied the latter and pointed to a sign above the desk: "Gentlemen Are Requested to Leave Their Valuables With the Clerk."—American Legion Weekly.

PROGRESS FOR WORK SATISFIES

DIRECTS MORTARS OR SOULS

Elliott Porter, State Chaplain of Legion in Montana, Recognizes No Denominational Bars.

Elliott Porter's efficiency in directing trench mortars was no greater than his proficiency in directing souls. As state chaplain of the American Legion in Montana, he built up a splendid reputation as reliable as that which he won as chaplain in the British field artillery. Mr. Porter, who is a Presbyterian, was one of the three men who wrote the national ceremonial ritual for the Legion. He worked in conjunction with a Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi. He recognizes no denominational bars in his Legion work, and at the 1921 convention nominated a Catholic to succeed him as state chaplain.

Carrying On With the American Legion

The 58 Americans who received the Congressional Medal of Honor will each receive the Italian war cross. General Zappari, chief of staff of the Italian army, has announced.

The National Guard of the country, with an enrolled strength of 132,000 men, has reached a point only slightly below that of the nation's regular army.

During the war the British Red Cross collected $95,000,000, of which $70,500,000 was expended. The membership was 126,000. Women members numbered 90,000.

A proposal has been made in Washington that the President give an American flag to the next of kin of each deceased soldier whose body is not returned from France.

The Congressional Medal of Honor laid upon the tomb of Great Britain's unknown soldier will be placed in a glass-fronted box and affixed to the tomb, according to the wish of the dean of Westminster Abbey.

The annual report of the commissioner of pensions discloses on its rolls the names of 64 widows of the War of 1812; 104 soldiers and 2,156 widows of the Mexican war and 3,783 soldiers and 2,509 widows of Indian outbreaks prior to 1891. World war veterans are not mentioned in the report.

JOBS GO TO EX-SERVICE MEN

British Legion Secures Promise From Government to Give Employment to Former Soldiers.

The British Legion, formed from three veteran organizations with constitution and by-laws modeled after the American Legion, has secured a promise from the English government that in public works for the benefit of the unemployed 75 per cent of the jobs shall be given ex-service men.

With King George's approval, the Legion works through Britain's consulates and all employers, showing a preference for ex-service men are permitted a special seal and their names are inscribed on the King's Roll.

The British Legion, sponsored by Field Marshal Haig, came into being in July, 1919. It has 1,300 posts and a membership running into millions. It is non-sectarian, nonpolitical and one of its ideals is the sanctifying of our service and industry. It is preparing to send unemployed ex-service men to British Columbia and Australia, where they will be welcomed. "The ultimate goal of the Legion," says Lord Haig, "must be the uplifting of the whole empire, the creating of a happier and more God-fearing community."

TO AID THE EX-SERVICE MEN

Henry Opdycke's Job is to Speed Up Veterans' Bureau Work in Second District.

Lubricating the machinery now in motion for the care of veterans in New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut, is the task assigned to Henry G. Opdycke. His job will be to speed up the work of the United States Veterans' bureau in the second district, where he has been appointed manager.

"Service for the ex-service man" is the policy announced by Opdycke, who since the war has been active in the Broadway post of the American Legion. In his plan to rehabilitate the soldier, he aims to bring the school work directly under government supervision so that exploitation of veterans through contract schools will be impossible.

The new appointee is a veteran of two wars.

LIKED IN ROLE OF "VICTORY"

Marjorie Rambeau Stars at Ball Given by the Legion at Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Marjorie Rambeau knows what it means to be victorious. She won "Victory" in "Eyes of Youth" and in "Daddy's Gone A-Huntin'" and in countless other plays. For these and other good reasons, she was chosen to play the part of Victory herself at the victory ball given by the American Legion at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, New York.

None of the many social leaders and stage stars who appeared there in the historical pageant had a more agreeable part to play than Miss Rambeau, and persons attending the ball noticed that her "eyes of youth" were particularly bright and victorious on that occasion.

Carrying On With the American Legion

The town of St. Charles, Minn., has received a fully equipped rest room from the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

A lycium course unexcelled in any city of its size is being presented to the city of Christopher, Ill., by the local post of the American Legion.

Soon Austria plans to abandon her paid professional army, substituting a paid militia with a six months' training period for a limited number of recruits.

Oklahoma is planning the erection of a half million dollar triumphal arch in Oklahoma City, in honor of the 1,000 ex-service men of that city who died in the World war.

Secretary of War Weeks has approved a new style cap for army officers. It is called the "Pershing cap" and differs only in that the visor is longer and at a sharper angle. The top is an inch broader and slightly higher.

A survey conducted by the U. S. Veterans' bureau at the State hospital for criminal insane, Dannemora, N. Y., revealed 48 ex-service men held in confinement for crimes ranging from simple assault to manslaughter. All such men will be examined and if their disability is found to be a result of their war service they will benefit by the relief provided by the government for disabled soldiers, the bureau announces.

Two women were meeting for the first time in several months. "Why," gushed the first, who had not in the past been on too cordial terms with the other, "I never thought you would recognize me—it's been so long since we met."

HELPS MEN FIND POSITIONS

Francis Lawson, Director of Employment Bureau, New York University, is Busy Man.

Helping thousands of college graduates and students to find suitable positions is the huge task of Francis C. Lawson, director of the bureau of employment of New York university, and a commander of the Third Hundred and Fifth Machine Gun Battalion post of the American Legion.

When the war broke out Lawson was associate pastor of the famous Judson Memorial church in Washington square, New York. He entered the service as a chaplain with the Seventy-seventh division, being wounded on the Vesle river and again in the Argonne, after which he recuperated in a hospital for a year.

Since taking over the work of placing graduates and students in jobs, Lawson has found positions for more than 400 of them. They include accountants, clerks, salesmen, foreign trade specialists, journalists and a variety of others.

SHE LOOKS AFTER THE WOMEN

Mrs. Carol Marks, Los Angeles, is Supervisor of Legion Auxiliary in Coast State.

Mrs. Carol Marks of Los Angeles, Cal., has undertaken to handle thousands of women in her capacity as supervisor in the American Legion Auxiliary in the Pacific Coast states. Eight years' experience on the stage stands her in good stead.

Mrs. Marks, who is prominent in patriotic and social circles in her state, was the first commander of the Legion Auxiliary in California. She has two sons, both of whom were disabled in the war and are now receiving vocational training from the government.

For Reserve Corps Duty.

Thirteen new brigadier generals have been appointed in the reserve corps. Five are retired regular army officers, one is from the National Guard, and seven are members of the officers' reserve corps. They are: Colonel Palmer E. Pierce, James H. Lindsey, Milton F. Davis, Walter C. Babcock, and Harold P. Howard, regular army, retired; former Brig. Gen. Henry J. Kelly of the Guard, and Reserve Corps Colonels Carey F. Spencer, Thonmwell Mulhally, George W. Hall, John J. Carty, William H. Welsh, Dr. William J. Mayo, and Frank Billings.

Little to Ask.

She was the sweetest, most innocent little girl he had ever seen, and he watched her sympathetically as she stood knee-deep in the snow, rumpling in her handbag, with tears of vexation in her eyes.

"May I help you?" he asked gently, not wishing to frighten her.

She smiled shyly.

"Yes," she answered. "Will you please roll this cigarette for me?"—American Legion Weekly.

To Meet in New Orleans.

New Orleans will be the common meeting ground for ex-service men from many countries this year when the International Veterans' Federation holds its third annual conference at the same time the American Legion is holding its national convention. The Legion is a member of the federation, and Cabot Ward, vice-commander of the Paris post, is vice-president of the federation.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By "Skinney"

That recent East End fire demonstrated once more that a motor driven fire engine is one of the real needs of the Clearfield Fire Department. Of course the burned building was outside the borough limits and this in itself accounted for a major portion of the handicap the firemen labored under on this occasion, but fires are bound to occur in such districts and it would only be neighborly to be in position to combat the fire fiend where no fire protection is afforded by the corporation wherein the property is located.

Then, too, the need for an additional supply of fire hose with three thousand feet of hose in use, very little is left for emergency use elsewhere in case of two fires in different sections of town, which, while few and far between, are possible and may occur at any time.

Clearfield firemen deserve the best equipment that can be provided for them. They should have a gasoline pumper and 2000 feet more of hose with the few other incidentals the department is short of.

All law-abiding citizens who have been in touch with the manner in which that Clearfield county running ring has been riding roughshod over all law and order, while buying, making and stealing liquor with which to flood the poor weak vessels of their own appetites in this county, will be pleased to learn that the action begun by Clearfield county authorities some time ago, and which began to come to light on Saturday last, will eventually result, it is hoped, in fastening the guilt upon all the persons involved in this business the past few months and clear up many booze holdups and robberies hereabouts from time to time. When all the facts come out the public generally will be surprised at the large scale upon which this nefarious bootlegging has been carried on.

Persons visiting the balcony at the Driggs Theatre these evenings have been greatly annoyed and shocked at the rude and boisterous manner in which a lot of the students of the Clearfield High School conduct themselves while there ostensibly to see the pictures. The management has made every effort to have these young smarties behave themselves, but thus far have had a lot of trouble attempting to keep order. Those participating in these rough house annoyances should be ashamed of themselves.

Everybody knows that a flapper is a young girl; but there are innumerable views as to just what kind of a young girl a flapper is. Here is the view of Prof. Herman Horne of New York University, expressed in an address to graduates of Washington Irving High School: "A flapper is a person who professes ignorance to truth."

"Who has a conscience which does not bother her."

"Who can dictate to her parents at home."

"Who prefers to learn the seamy side of life from experience."

Is the Professor right, flappers.

Speaking of birth control, babies and other family matters, it is said there is a mother in London, wife of a British nobleman, who has been married five years and has nine live-sons. During the short span of her married life, she has given birth to triplets—all boys—three times and they are all alive and kicking. When she goes out walking the lady takes six nurses along to look after the babies and the family gathering looks like a children's home on wheels. This story is absolutely true and what is more remarkable, this splendid mother says she is much interested to see how many more she can have.

That $825,000 Dodge Necklace of Pearls which has caused so much newspaper comment recently will hold its own with the records showing the prices paid for other famous jewels, which follows:

Lady Henry Gordon Lennox's string of 287 pearls, for which $112,500 was paid.

1918.—$265,000 paid in Paris for a string of 240 pearls weighing 3,250 grains.

1910.—The Dudley pearl, for which $200,000 was paid belonged to the Earl of Dudley.

1914.—Fletcher Pearl necklace said to be finest in world, one half of which sold for $600,000 to Joseph E. Widener of Philadelphia.

1785.—Cardinal Louis de Rohan gave notes for about $320,000 for a famous diamond necklace for Marie Antoinette.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kolbe entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon Saturday afternoon, in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The house and tables were artistically decorated with roses, the color scheme being silver and white. Covers were laid for 21 and miniature bride's bouquets were favors. Mr. and Mrs. Kolbe received many beautiful gifts appropriate for the anniversary.

Forrest M. Lucas, of Unionville, left for Osceola Mills yesterday after spending several weeks with his aunt, Mrs. M. R. Lucas on Market street.

Howard L. Waple, formerly of Philadelphia, but now of Altoona spent the week end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Starn, and other friends in town.

stage, the witness said, became sore and went to a bureau drawer where he secured a revolver. The witness states that Pulci then went to the cellar and he heard six shots fired. Pulci returned upstairs and exclaimed "My godfather has been killed." Several of those in the room then went to the cellar where they found Nelo lying on the floor, dead.

The witness alleges that after Pulci returned upstairs following the report of the shots, he went to a bureau, and emptied the shells from the revolver and then reloaded the gun. Pulci, according to the witness then went out side. The witness himself then left the house and notified the police.

The Second Witness
The second witness called was Patsy Caramella (Leonard's Patsy). Patsy was a very evasive witness toward the latter part of the questioning. During the first part he told of the yard game in progress. Sam and Joe Caramella were playing against him and Charley Nelo. The played one round and Patsy won. These two drank the wine at stake. Another round was played and the other side won, but "we drank the wine." Then trouble started. Sam Caramella accused Patsy of being a stool pigeon, he declared acting as a go between in the recent raids on the flat. Patsy claims that he made no reply. The game was still going on and Sam accused Patsy of taking some money. Sam grabbed Patsy's finger in his teeth. Patsy claims he had no money. Joe Caramella pushed Sam on the face and a general squabble resulted, with one side holding the other side back. At this point Patsy said Pulci the owner of the house, got into the game. Joe held Tony back and then these two were separated. At this point the witness lost track of almost everyone. He testified that he heard one shot, that he saw Tony Pulci with a revolver in his hand, but after the shooting took place. He also testified that Tony is a cousin of his by marriage and that he called up Quas Margiotti, of Punxsutawney on the telephone and engaged him as counsel for Tony.

Patsy Caramella was grilled to some extent by District Attorney Armid who queried him along the lines in regard to the trouble previous to the shooting. Patsy stated that every one tried to quiet Sam Caramella, but his recollection of the trouble after it had gone a little while was very hazy.

Why "Spinster?"

The term "spinster" applied to an unmarried woman is an actual reference to the spinning wheel. In olden times women were prohibited from marrying until they had spun a full set of best furnishings; thus, before their marriage they spent much time at the spinning wheel, and were, therefore, known as "spinsters."

"They said it couldn't be done, but he did it." Such might be the title of a history of the Arms Conference. The Shantung problem, particularly, was the reason ascribed by many for their lack of faith in the conference called by Mr. Harding. Now that there is unity on, not only Shantung, but all naval matters as well, no one can say that the Arms Conference has not been eminently successful. It is more than gratifying that there has been nothing political about the conference. One of the hardest workers in the conference is Oscar Underwood, a Democratic leader of nation-wide prominence. The Arms Conference was purely an American undertaking and as such was carried through with characteristic American promptness. To Mr. Hughes belongs, no doubt, the credit for taking the lead in drastic and breath-taking proposals, but to all who took part in that conference, the world owes a debt of gratitude.

John Davis is a good, old-fashioned name and the new prohibition enforcement officer apparently believed in going after his job in an old-fashioned way, applying the slipper instead of moral suasion. He has been on the job only a few days, but that does not seem any reason to John why he should not get right to work to clean up Pennsylvania, and to make matters better, and more indicative of good things for the future, he said very little about it. Reverend Davis does not seem to care much about stimulating the bootlegging business, and from the way he is starting out there is going to be a big boost in the unemployment figures in the near future.

If the seismograph at Washington and Cleveland are really in earnest and not simply doing the shimmy in unison, we are quite certain to receive some news from other and remote parts of the globe that a great earthquake has taken place. It is hoped that the disturbances which the little sensitive instruments tell us about are not in the populated region. It is possible that the disturbances may have been in the inner parts of the earth and that no harm has been done.

We did promise ourselves that we would not mention Fatty Arbuckle in these columns again, but since it is quite certain that Fatty is to be whitewashed in his second trial, it will not be amiss to say that Fatty may be acquitted but no court can give him a vindication. Fatty is surely out of luck for the future. Movie fans will have none of him and his old job of bar boy is out of style.

LIQUOR OWNERS TO BRICK OFFICIAL SEEK AMENDMENT TO OBTAIN HOLDINGS PREDICTS LOWER PRICES ON COMMON

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—A strong move to amend the Prohibition law so that owners of liquor stored in Government warehouses can remove the liquor to their homes for private use is expected in Congress shortly as the result of the Supreme Court's decision yesterday. Demands were made upon Congressmen from all parts of the country to assist in such a move. These were mostly from persons who had entrusted private stocks to the Government warehouses. It is said there are 32,000,000 gallons of whiskey stored in Government warehouses.

Pipeclay for Mats.
Pipeclay acts as a preservative of rubber and under one of the best mediums for treating the rubber mats used in automobiles. Oil and grease are rubber solvents and ruin the floor mats if they are allowed to remain on them. The mats should be kept quite dry and then be pipeclayed. The pipeclay dries and sucks the oil out of the rubber.

One Big Thing

Sometimes a man will be a most excellent business man in everything, and yet neglect one very important matter.

He will carefully look after his business to the smallest detail, but overlook one big thing.

He will look out for the happiness of his family, and yet neglect to provide assurances for his family's future comfort and happiness.

MANY ACCIDENTS HAPPEN ON FARM

Falls and Refractory Animals Cause of Hurts That Could Be Avoided.

DIVERS MISHAPS DELAY WORK

Careless Use of Unprotected Machinery Takes Toll of Limbs That Would Be Prevented With Use of Safety Devices.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Farmer Brown was driving the doctor back to town, after he had set neighbor William Johnson's fractured leg and dressed three carved-in ribs. Johnson seemed to be in bad luck constantly, and the neighbors were circulating a subscription paper for him and arranging a "bee" to do up his unfinished work.

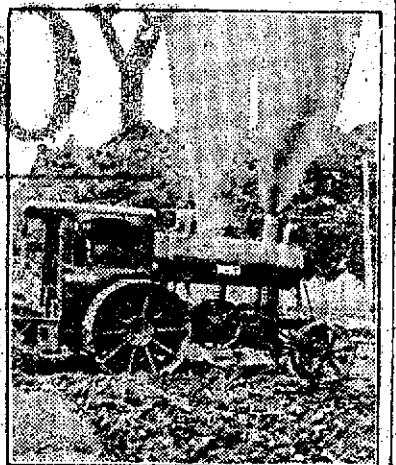

Earlier in the season a hold-back broke on a hill. The horse ran away, throwing Johnson to the ground and confining him to bed several days in a "busy" period.
A little later, one of his little boys stepped on a garden rake which had been left back down on the ground, and ran a line through his foot. The child was taken to the doctor to have the wound dressed, but not until infection had set in, and he would always be a trifle lame.

Delays Farm Work.
A hired man stepped through a loose board of a barn loft, and farm and household work was delayed while he recovered.

This latest misfortune was the worst of the season. Johnson had been shingling the barn using a common prop scaffolding made by placing wooden brackets against the side of the building and supporting them with two-by-four scantling set at an angle of 45 degrees and anchored at the foot with stakes and stones. He had undertaken to carry a bunch of shingles to the roof. An upper rung, previously broken from the ladder, had been replaced with a two-inch shingle band, nailed on with eight-penny nails. The wood in the side of the ladder was dry and the nails gave way under Johnson's weight. The jolt as he struck the next rung upset the ladder, and down tumbled Johnson, ladder, scaffolding and shingles, all in a heap on the ground.

"Pretty tough on Johnson," observed Brown. "They talk about farming being a hard and dangerous pursuit, but I'll bet he didn't think so when that bunch of shingles pursued him and smashed him like this."

"Farming is hazardous," said the old doctor, "providing people would take reasonable care of themselves. It ought to be as safe as any ordinary occupation; but the observations of the United

Farm Steam Engines Should Be Officially Inspected at Least Once Every Year.

States Department of Agriculture and the National Safety Council show that every year hundreds of people are maimed and killed in farm accidents, a large part of which are preventable.

"I don't know where some farmers and economy in keeping a horse that will shy at anything and kick anybody who comes near him. Perhaps they like to feel their mastery, but the horse usually gets his laming in the end. And of course there is danger to inexperienced persons."

"No bull above two years old should be permitted in a pasture, even if dehorned, as all bulls should be. Even an ugly ram has been known to kill a man. Savage dogs ought not to be necessary on a farm. But you find them, and often they find you first."

"Farm machinery, such as corn shredders, take a toll of limbs that would be prevented to a large degree if the most ordinary safety devices were installed and kept in working order."

Making Thrashing Safe.
"In some states the boiler inspection laws do not apply to steam thrashers. Every thrashing machine owner ought to have his boiler inspected once a year, whether there is a legal requirement or not."

"I could talk for another hour or so on farm accident breeders that might be eradicated. A country doctor's practice is full of them; but here we are at the house. Come in to dinner before you go back."

"Much obliged," returned Brown, as he cramped his shiver around in the roadway. "I guess I'll hurry back to the farm and fix up a few things before the neighbors have to get up a 'bee' to tide me over a broken leg."

Miss Emma Anderson spent Sunday at her home in O'Shanter.

DECISION RENDERED IN OWNERSHIP OF MURRAY BUILDING

Judge Bell this morning handed down his opinion and decree in the equity case of E. W. Hess vs. Hazard A. Murray, Esq., which suit grew out of the recent purchase by Mr. Hess of the interest of four of the five heirs of the late Thomas H. Murray, Esq., in the Murray building on South Second street. Mr. Hess and H. A. Murray, the fifth heir could not agree upon a price for the latter's interest, and Hess asked that the Clearfield county court partition the property.

The question was argued before Judge Bell some two weeks ago, Miller & Hartwick appearing for Mr. Hess, while W. A. Hagerty and A. R. Chase, Esqs., represented Mr. Murray. In his opinion Judge Bell sustains Mr. Hess' contention and directs that the partition proceed.

ARBUCKLE VERDICT AGAIN DELAYED; NEW WITNESSES APPEAR

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 31.—Further delay in sending the case of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle to the jury appeared probable today when the state announced that it had discovered a new mystery witness. It is probable that this witness will arrive in San Francisco today. The state will also call half a dozen minor witnesses in rebuttal to the testimony of the defense, but their testimony will be brief. The defense will also call several witnesses in rebuttal, according to Gavin McNabb, who returned today from Carson City, Nevada, where he argued the case of Mary Pickford before the Supreme Court of that State. The Arbuckle case will probably not go to the jury before Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

CANADIANS CHOOSE YOUNG LEADER TO RUN GOVERNMENT THUS EMULATING CANADA'S BIGGEST CORPORATION'S POLICY

New Parliament Bldg.

If Horace Greeley were giving out advice today, he'd be apt to say: "Young man, go north." For Canada is essentially a young man's country. This was proved in the recent election when the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King was elected Premier of the Dominion.

Mr. King, who is now but forty-seven years of age, has held public office since he was twenty-six. His earlier years were spent in gaining an education in the course of which he took degrees at Toronto, Chicago and Harvard Universities. He studied labor conditions in England as a resident of the Passmore Edwards Settlement.

A social club for working men and women in which Mrs. Humphrey W. d. the novelist, took a great interest. Mr. King is said to be the hero of Mrs. Ward's novel, "Canadian Born." His first public office was that of Deputy Minister of Labor which he filled from 1910 to 1908. His experience in this department made him an authority on immigration problems and in 1909 he was appointed Minister of Labor, then for three years he did investigation work for the Rockefeller Foundation, and embodied the result of his work in a book under the title of "Industry and Humanity."

There are two other examples of young men who are filling high places in Canada. They are Premier Martin who at the age of forty-one, was elected Premier of Saskatchewan in 1917 and whose tenure of office has seen that province forge ahead and prosper mightily, and Edward Wentworth Beatty, the youngest railway president in the world, the head of the world's greatest transportation system. He too, assumed his high office at the age of forty-one and his three years of his incumbency have demonstrated that though his shoulders are young, they bear a wise head, for under his administration the Canadian Pacific Railway has continued to expand.

CAUTION Keep Contagion From Your Home

The phone rings at the office. It is your wife talking. "Emily is very sick—come home immediately."

You arrive at your doorstep staring dizzily at the sign on the door—"CONTAGIOUS DISEASE."

That's what might happen to you Mr. Husband, if your plumbing and heating is not kept in first class 100% condition all the time.

Better do that replacing or modeling NOW.

Collins on Sunday. After the service the ladies served dinner to a company of workers, who later divided into eleven teams of three men each. These teams went over the town doing evangelistic work in homes where the families do not attend any church regularly. The evangelistic services in the church will continue each evening this week (except Saturday) at 7:30 o'clock.

A Curwensville friend received word on Monday announcing the death and burial of Matthew Chambers, an ex-special agent of the United States Land Department, Portland, Oregon, death occurring while on a trip east with his wife. Mr. Chambers died on Friday, January 20th at Cleveland, Ohio, where his only son resided. His funeral was held on Sunday, Jan. 22, at Galena, Ill. Mr. Chambers went to Portland some years ago from Iowa where he had been a practicing attorney. He resigned from his Government work recently, contemplating living a retired life. He was 73 years of age.

Matthew Chambers was the only son of William P. Chambers by his first wife and was born in Curwensville. Soon after his father's second marriage he determined to go west. He reached Iowa and by working for farmers in the summer and attending school during the winter months managed to secure an education which enabled him to study the law. After being admitted to the bar he soon became one of the leading attorneys of his adopted state. He was a resident of Galena, Ill., prior to going to Iowa. Almost his entire life was spent in the west.

During the fall months of last year he, accompanied by his wife, spent some time in Curwensville. Matt Chambers was a self made man and by his determination and energy to make a name for himself, admirably succeeded, both as attorney at law and as trusted agent of the government. He is survived by his widow and on son, the latter being in business in Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Chambers is a former Selinsgrove, Pa., lady.

John J. Fletcher is a patient in the hospital. He is a sufferer of lung trouble.

J. A. Fletcher was called here from Everett, Pa., on account of the illness of his son, John, who is in the hospital.

REVOLVER BATTLE AND WATER MAINS USED IN CAPTURE OF NEGRO SLAYER

Boston, Mass., Jan. 31.—Rency Murray, a negro who shot and fatally wounded a policeman and then barricaded himself in a South End apartment house, was "captured" early today after a terrific revolver battle. The battle lasted nearly an hour during which hundreds of shots were exchanged. Unable to get near the house, the police summoned firemen who directed two high pressure streams of water into the house forcing the negro to the roof where he was finally captured.

Birthday Cake Candles.
The custom of placing candles on a birthday cake—one for each year—comes from Germany. The Germans place a thick one in the center, called Lebenslicht, the light of life. Only he or she who declares his or her birthday may put out the light of life; it is unlucky if done by any other member of the family. The lights are symbols of life and its portions the years. For persons advanced in years one candle must be blown out, as otherwise too many would be required.

PAINS ACROSS SMALL OF BACK

Husband Helped in Housework—
Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Strong

Foster, Oregon. "I used Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound for pains across the small of my back. They bothered me so badly that I could do my work only with the help of my husband. One day he saw the 'ad.' in our paper telling what Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound is doing for women, so I began to take it. It has helped me wonderfully. I am feeling fine, do all my housework and washing for seven in the family. I have been irregular too, and now am all right. I am telling my friends what it has done for me and am sure it will do good for others. You can use this letter as a testimonial. I will stand up for Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound any time." —Mrs. Wm. J. JUNK, Foster, Oregon.

Doing the housework for a family of seven is some task. If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irregularities, are easily tired out and irritable, or have other disagreeable ailments caused by some weakness, give Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. Let it help you.

SUITS FILED

Paul R. Spackman, by his attorney, Miller & Hartwick, entered suit in Prothonotary Ralston's office this morning against the Spackman Baking Company of Osceola, in an effort to recover $370 which he alleges due him for services rendered. The statement—filed recites that the defendant company hired the plaintiff to superintend the building and construction of a bakery at Osceola, for which service he was to receive $65 per week; that he entered upon his duties under this agreement on August 1, 1921, and continued on the job until December 29, 1921, earning $1430. Of this amount the plaintiff alleges $750 is yet unpaid.

Kramer & Kramer, on behalf of the Frank A. LaPointe Nursery Company, entered suit in Prothonotary Ralston's office against Mrs. Cecil E. Wilson for $171, which amount is alleged to be due on an order for trees and shrubbery which is disputed by the defendant.

NOT MUCH OF A SHOW

"The Love Nest" at the DuBois Theatre last evening was greeted by a very cool house. The same could be said for the performance, man Baking Company of Osceola, in which was very much on the mend. The outfit had a spitup when they reached Clearfield yesterday morning and the leading lady and two or three others who had been on the bill decided to quit. The absence of these "stars" no doubt had something to do with the show failing to give satisfaction.

UPSETS, TURN-OVERS AND SOMERSAULTS FEATURES IN BASKETBALL LEAGUE RACE

By DICK LEIPOLD

As the N. W. P. I. A. League swings into its fifth week of play, up-sets are still playing the star role in the week end clashes between the six schools in the circuit. The only team in the league which has not lost a contest is Punxsutawney, all others having dropped at least two contests. Last Friday's games really furnished the most sensational up-sets to date, when Clearfield—Brookville, DuBois—New Bethlehem, and Punxsutawney—Reynoldsville played.

Brookville was picked by the Du-Bois critics to swamp the Red and Black, in as much as the Jefferson county capital boys had decisively defeated Reynoldsville at Reynoldsville, 34 to 22, and Reynoldsville handed C. H. S. a 24 to 19 set back.

DuBois was a favorite over New Bethlehem as the week before the third class city tilters dropped Brookville 18 to 24 at Brookville, who had handled the New Bethlehem outfit a 23-20 licking on the Clayton county floor.

But the dope was spilled right wantonly, Clearfield winning from Brookville 52 to 46, and New Bethlehem trimmed DuBois High 29-21.

Reynoldsville furnishes Real Surprise
Punxsutawney High School, heralded as the "class of the league" by virtue of their early season performances, were given the surprise of their lives, when the Reynoldsville five invaded the Punxsutawney gym and proceeded to ring up baskets despite the frantic efforts of the Ground Hog-gers. The Reynoldsville team with a shifted line-up, proved to be a wonderful quintet, and were leading Punxsutawney 27 to 26 until one minute remained to play. At this stage, Thoreson, who is playing his fourth year as a regular at Punxsutawney, shot a long field goal and boosted his team ahead 28 to 26. Reynoldsville would have scored again on the following tip-off, but Redcliffe, R. H. S. forward was held under his basket and Captain Schettino, of Reynoldsville was given two free tosses. He made the first toss but the second rolled around the basket edge and dropped off as the game ended, Punxsutawney winning 28 to 27.

Foul Tossing Big Asset This Season.

In all the league games this winter foul tossing has played an important part. If Reynoldsville had scored their second foul toss in the final seconds of play the score would have read—Reynoldsville 28, Punxsutawney 28, and an extra period would have resulted.

New Bethlehem's foul tossers scored 15 out of 17 attempts and really was the main factor in the Clayton County team's 29 to 21 conquest over DuBois.

If Smith of the C. H. S. had fallen down in the free toss act, an extra period would not have been necessary
Friday evening against Brookville.

The visitors would have won easily as Swindell of Brookville scored 24 out of 31 fouls and the two teams' field goals were almost even.

Close Final Half League Friday Friday, February 3rd, Clearfield will play the strong New Bethlehem club on the local floor. Punxsutawney visits their county seat, Brookville, DuBois and Reynoldsville clash at Reynoldsville.

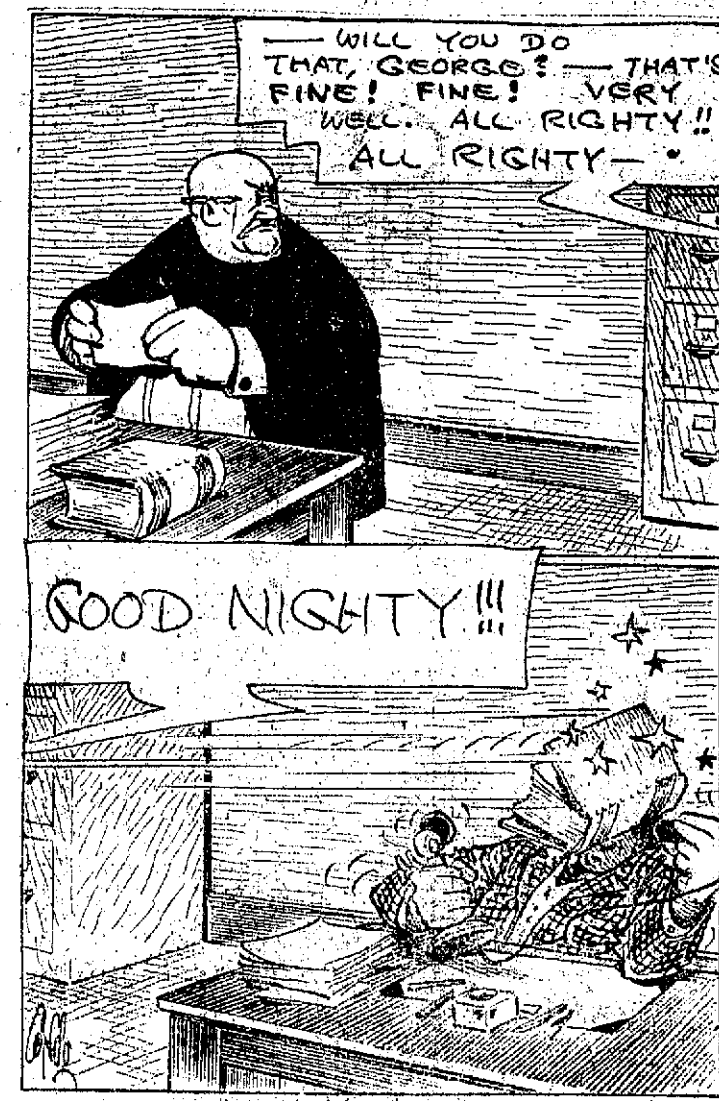

League Standing:
	W	L	Pct.
Punxsutawney	4	0	1.000
Clearfield	2	2	.500
Reynoldsville	2	2	.500
Brookville	2	2	.500
DuBois	1	3	.250
New Bethlehem	1	3	.250

Come to Think of It.

A man was describing to a woman the compensations of nature—how in the blind the feeling of touch was acute; how those who were deaf in one ear often heard clearly with the other, and how a person blinded in one sound eye. "Yes," said she, "it's re-

I have always noticed that if a person has one short leg the other is always longer."

FIRES ON FARMS CAUSE BIG LOSS

Numerous Disastrous Conflagrations Could Be Prevented With Ordinary Care.

LIGHTNING IS LARGE FACTOR

Frequent Inspection of Buildings Should Be Made and All Rubbish and Inflammable Material Removed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Farm fires cost about $24,000,000 a year—$18,100,710 in 1918. Of the fires that year 33 per cent were from causes classed as preventable. 27 per cent from partly preventable causes and 40 per cent unknown but believed to have been largely preventable. With the appropriate fire-fighting equipment and care, fires are hard to control. Prevention is the best way to deal with them.

Defective chimneys and flues took toll to the extent of $1,902,031; sparks on roofs, $1,181,174; careless use of matches by smokers and others, $1, 071,987; petroleum and its products, $732,007; and stoves, furnaces, boilers, and their pipes, $674,968. The largest item listed as nearly preventable is lightning, $3,933,950.

Inspect Premises Frequently.

The Department of Agriculture advises a frequent looking over of the premises to see that the buildings are in the best practicable shape, to prevent and resist fire, that inflammable rubbish is cleared away, and that habits of safety be instilled in the handling of matches, lamps, stoves and kerosene and gasoline.

Gasoline has come to play an important part in farm life that special care should be taken to see that it is not stored in inflammable buildings and is never opened in the presence of an uncovered flame. If lanterns must be used in barns, they should be kept in good condition, set or hung in a safe place, and never filled or lighted in the barn. Kerosene lamps should be examined to see that the burners are in good condition and should never be left where they may be upset. Kerosene and gasoline receptacles should be kept apart, and should be so different as to avoid possibility of a mistake.

Numerous disastrous fires are caused by thrashing machines, both by scattering sparks and embers and by dust explosions in the separators. All smokestacks should have spark arresters, and the ground around the boiler should be kept clear and wet down, if necessary. Grain-dust explosions are largely preventable. The department has made extensive studies of the subject and is prepared to recommend adequate safeguards.

Serious losses are caused by sparks from locomotives, which ignite dry

A Fire-Fighting Outfit for a Country Community.

wooden shingle roofs and start many fires in straw, stubble, and grass during dry seasons. If a railroad runs through the farm it will pay to plow a few furrows along the right of way as a firebreak.

Never Smoke in Barn or Garage.

Ordinary friction matches should be kept safe in receptacles, away from children, and never carried loose.
Smoking in barns and garages never should be permitted. Fire marshals of western states report greater fire losses in grain and straw than the past season from carelessly thrown matches, engine sparks, and automobile and tractor backfire than ever before.

Buildings may be made safer by seeing that the chimneys are without cracks and free of soot, which may take fire and scatter sparks on dry roofs. Flues which may become hot should be covered with asbestos and any near-by walls and ceilings protected. There should be a sheet of metal under every stove.

Out of all the losses by lightning not one was on a building protected by lightning rods. It is now distinctly known that lightning rods afford protection. If installed intelligently they reduce the risk from lightning almost to the vanishing point.

Precautionary measures will do much to cut down a loss that takes millions of dollars out of the possession of rural Americans every year and leaves nothing in its place. Prevention is better than regret.

Miss Louise Edmiston entertained the Y. B. C. club last evening at her home on Pine street.

MOTHER PINES AS NAMELESS BABY, NURSED AS OWN, IS TAKEN AWAY

New York, Jan. 30.—It was only a nameless baby girl the doctors brought to Mrs. Frank Kennedy when her own little one died shortly after birth, eleven months ago. Now, by decree of the Supreme Court, the baby has been taken away from her—the tiny creature who had restored happiness to the distracted mother.

And last night in her modest home in Brooklyn, Mrs. Kennedy grieved as deeply as if death had taken the infant upon which she had lavished all the affection that a mother could give her own.

Thirteen months ago Yeara Sahls-tron, employed by a Brooklyn physician, gave birth to a baby girl, Joseph Tucker, a one legged veteran of the A. E. F., who she said was the father repudiated the parentage but the Justices in Special Sessions held him to be the father and ordered him to pay $3 a week towards the child's support.

At that time Mrs. Kennedy, wife of a B. R. T. guard lost her firstborn. To assure her girl the physician suggested to Yeara that she give her baby into the care of the heartbroken mother.

And so little Lillian Tucker—so she was listed in the Court papers filed recently—took the place of Mrs. Kennedy's dead baby. Mrs. Kennedy new full well the stigma that new baby but she came to love her as deeply as if she were the Kennedy's own.

Recently the Sahls-tron girl decided she wanted to have her baby turned over to the care of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kall, of Babylon. There was no question that the Kennedys, though in extremely moderate circumstances, gave the baby every attention and comfort. But the mother determined that her child should be brought up in better circumstances.

So the New York Church Mission Society, acting for the mother, had the baby and her foster mother brought before Justice Aspinall, in Brooklyn, on a writ of habeas corpus.

Tucker, the alleged father, also was subpoenaed. When asked by Justice Aspinall whether he was the father of the child, he replied:

"That was settled in Special Sessions. I was ordered to pay for its support."

SOUTH FOURTH STREET RESIDENT DIES

Martin Williams, aged about 55 years, died at his home on South Fourth street, last evening. He had been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past couple of years. He is survived by his widow and several children.

Jackson's "Kitchen Cabinet"

The kitchen cabinet was a name given to a group of political advisers of President Jackson. They occupied no official positions, but were consulted by the President as private citizens. The principal members of this "cabinet" were Amos Kendall, William B. Lewis, Isaac Hill, Duff Green and Francis Pickens. It was the custom of these unofficial advisers, whenever they called upon the President, to go up by the back door to avoid observation—hence the sobriquet of "Kitchen Cabinet," which is said to have originated among the Whigs.

Room Dark, Floor Lighted.

One of the inconveniences of walking about in a dark room at night is hitting the feet against things unseen. At the same time one does not always want to light up the room. Practical Electricians (New York) describes the device of a western electrical engineer, who places lamps under the bed and bureau. In this way the floor is brightly lighted, while the upper part of the room remains dark. Thus one can walk about in perfect comfort, and at the same time in privacy.

Unexpected.

"How is it with you and Mr. Wiadr, Anna? Did you explain everything to him? You told him about your rich aunt, of course; and after that what followed?" "Oh, eloped with her!" Berlin Der Brummer.

Willing to Be Convinced.

John—"Do you really believe that absence makes the heart grow fonder?" Louise—"Well, you might try it for a month or two."—The American Legion Weekly.

Barber Cuts Pimple On Face; Young Man Dies At Uniontown Hospital

Word has been received in Du-Bois of the death of Wilbur Heading which took place in the Uniontown hospital last week as the result of blood poisoning. The blood poisoning resulted from the effect of a pimple on his face being cut while being shaved in Clearfield, enroute home from a visit at the Ashenfelter home in Brady township. The young man had frequently visited here and was quite well known by a number of people, who regretted to hear of his untimely death.

At the time young Heading received the cut on the chin he paid little attention to it. In a short time his face began to swell to unusual size, but he continued his teaching in chemistry at Fredericktown near Uniontown. The infection continued to spread through his system with alarming rapidity, and he finally went to the Uniontown hospital. At times he showed signs of improvement and there was hope for his ultimate recovery, but early last week he became worse and his death ensued.

The Third Ward firemen who were first on the ground, used very good judgment in handling the fire, holding their water line in reserve and combating the flames with hand chemical tanks. The arrival of No. 1 and Fourth Ward with their large chemical tanks soon lent the additional reinforcements needed and the blaze was confined to the attic.

The building was roofed with slate which prevented the fire from breaking through and the damage was confined to the tearing off of some plaster and the burning and charring of the rafters supporting the roof in the vicinity of where the fire started.

CLAYSVILLE, LITTLE VILLAGE, NEARLY DESTROYED BY FIRE

Claysville, Pa., Jan. 31.—Firemen battled three hours extinguishing the blaze that destroyed the town of Claysville early this morning. Six buildings were totally destroyed and four others badly damaged. The total loss is estimated at $250,000. The fire started in Marple's General Store and spread rapidly to other buildings in the main business block of the town, including the National Bank of Claysville.

Ouch! Such Pain!

It takes you right in the back! Sometimes in the arm, hip or foot. It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison, called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking the advice of Doctor Pierce, which is, "keep the kidneys in good order."

Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking "Anuric." This can be obtained at any drug store, in tablet form.

Ask for Doctor Pierce's An-uric (kidney and backache remedy).

Ask your neighbors! Many of them have received benefit just as has this man.

Sanborn, N. Y.,—"A year ago I was troubled with my kidneys. Had used several patent medicines with no relief. I am a farmer and you are all quite aware that farming strikes hard on the kidneys. I purchased six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets and today I feel quite a new man. No more piercing pains in my back, and farm work seems more a pleasure to me than a burden. These cheers for Anuric!"—Eleanor Williams, Route 17.

EIGHTEEN JOIN THE 11TH ST. M. E. CHURCH

As a result of the evangelistic efforts at the Eleventh Street church the members are rejoicing in the addition of eighteen to the church rolls, who joined on Sunday. Many others are contemplating the step.

For Sister.

At the Madison Avenue branch library a little boy was looking for an interesting book and seemed to be having a hard time finding one that appealed to him. At last he brought to the desk "Wanted: A Husband," saying, "I guess I'll take this home to my sister. That's what she's looking for."—Indianapolis News.

"Henry VIII."

"Henry VIII." is supposed to have been drawn mainly from Cavendish's "Life of Wolsey" and from the chronicles of Chetiv and others. It was accepted that the play—the last of the Shakespearean works—was not written by him in its exact final form, but was somewhat modified by Burbage and his company in preparing it for the stage. This, if true, probably was with Shakespeare's consent.

DELICIOUS HAM SANDWICHES

There's a difference between our ham sandwiches and the ordinary ham sandwich. We buy the best hams that can be bought and then roast them in our own kitchens. We're sure that they are roasted to just the right turn before they are taken out of the ovens.

Then we slice them in generous slices and place them between two slices of light bread and wrap in wax paper.

Have you tried one with a mug of steaming hot chocolate?
